

HOW CAN WE PREVENT IT?

The refusal of Congress to appropriate ten million dollars will result in a discharge of hundreds of men at the Navy Yard. The House Naval Committee has voted against the appropriation. It is now up to the Senate. Can it be saved? It is worth trying for and the Herald will lend every possible aid. It has the assurance of our Senators that they will work for it.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Construction of a $2,000,000 tunnel to connect the Pennsylvania and Grand Central stations in New York City so as to expedite the transfer of mails, was urged

MOTHER APPEAL TO SAVE AUSTRIA

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 28.—President Wilson today asked Secretary Glass to make another appeal to Congress for authority to loan $150,000,000 to Poland, Austria and Armenia to relieve their desperate food situation.

The President wrote the Secretary that it was "unthinkable" to him that the United States should withdraw from the stricken people of those countries the assistance which could be rendered by "making available on credit a small portion of our exportable surplus of foods." Action by the House Ways and Means Committee on Mr. Glass' request for authority to make the loan is expected in a few days. The Secretary and other Treasury officials appeared yesterday before the Republican steering committee to explain the necessity for the loan, and to discuss the American situation generally.

Assistant Postmaster I. H. Washburn and wife returned today from Portland where they have been visiting relatives the last week.

In the last two years he has been a decrease of thirty-two thousand in New York City.

FLU HITS ARMY FORCES IN SIBERIA

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 28.—An increase in the number of cases of influenza among the American troops in Siberia was shown today in a statement issued by the War Department dealing with the outbreak of the disease in the army both at home and abroad. For the weeks ending Jan. 2 and 9 respectively, 24 and 41 cases were reported. The only disease death reported however, was one due to tuberculosis. The report showed the death rate among the troops in Germany continued high. During the week ending Jan. 16th there were reported 63 cases of influenza and 30 cases of pneumonia, with 12 deaths from the latter disease.

Prof. Johnston, who was 52 years old, left the chair of modern history at Harvard University to go overseas and returned to his professorship a few months ago.

SEC. BAKER PROTESTS SALE GERMAN FLEET

Shipping Board Asked to Withhold Sale

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 28.—Protest by Secretary Baker against the sale of certain of the former German passenger liners will delay final action by the Shipping Board which today was considering bids submitted for the fleet of approximately 30 vessels. In a letter to Chairman Payne of the Board, Secretary Baker has called attention to an agreement reached by the War Department, the Navy Department, the Department of Commerce and the Shipping Board and approved by President Wilson that certain of the vessels turned over to the Board by the transport service should form an army transport reserve subject to immediate withdrawal in case of emergency calling for use as transports. Chairman Payne replied that the Board would not accept the bids until the matter had been taken up with the War Department. Twelve bids for the liners have been received and it is understood that one of them is for the entire fleet.

MEMBER OF BOLSHEVIKI DISABLED POWHATAN--DENIED

Report Being Investigated By the War Department

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 28.—Investigation of the cause of the disabling of the army transport Powhatan at sea is being made by an official board sitting at New York. In announcing this today the War Department said reports regarding Bolshevik activities by members of the transports crew or others on board had thus far been proven to be without foundation. From information available here it appears that in a heavy gale a portion of the coal bunker bulkhead was carried away allowing about 75 tons of coal to shift. The fuel choked the pumps and they could not keep up with a leakage through a chipped ash ejector. In spite of the rapidly rising water in the fireroom it was said all the firemen remained on duty until ordered out by the engineer when the water was shoulder high.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Jan. 28.—Influenza cases reported here today totaled 5589 or 280 more than developed on the worst day in the 1918 epidemic. Sixty-seven deaths from influenza and 118 from pneumonia were reported today with 636 new pneumonia cases.
Washington, Jan. 28.—There has been practically no change in the influenza situation over the United States during the last 24 hours. A slow but gradual increase in the number of new cases was shown in reports from several cities received today by the Public Health Service.

ENFORCED MILITARY TRAINING

Military Committee of Senate
Vote is 9 to 5.

Washington, Jan. 27.—By a vote of 9 to 5, the Senate military committee Monday approved provisions providing for compulsory military training for boys between 18 and 21 years, inclusive, and ordered a favorable report upon the army reorganization bill.

The compulsory military training provision, which fixes the training period at four months, was opposed in the committee by Senators Lefferts, Wisconsin, and Capper, Kansas. It was supported by Senators McCallister, Tennessee, Sheppard, Texas, and Kirby, of Arkansas. Democrats, Senators Wadsworth, New York; Warren, Wyoming; Sutherland, West Virginia; New, Indiana; Frelinghuysen, New Jersey; Knox, Pennsylvania; and Spencer, Missouri, Republicans, and Chamberlain, Oregon, and Thomas, Colorado, Democrats, supported it. Senator McKellar, announced that he would submit a minority report in which a number of the Senators who opposed the plan are expected to concur.

As finally agreed upon the bill is virtually the same as reported by the subcommittee but is radically different from the reorganization bill submitted by the War Department to Congress. In addition to establishing compulsory military training the bill provides for the establishment of an army to be divided into a citizen army composed of men who have received the compulsory training, a standing army consisting of 250,000 enlisted men and 18,000 officers, and national guard. Specific provision is made in the bill that the citizen army cannot be called to the colors except in case of a declaration of war. To accommodate the reserve force built up under the system of military training, provision is made in the bill for an annual reduction of five percent in the enlisted strength of the regular army and two percent in the number of enlisted officers for the first five years. This will mean, Chairman Wadsworth explained, that at the end of five years the regular army will be reduced by 70,000 men and 18,000 commissioned officers, which will greatly decrease the cost of maintaining the military establishment.

The bill also would place all youths who have undergone the four months' military training on the reserve list to be subject to two weeks' training annually. Under an amendment by Senator Spencer, Republican, of Missouri, dependents of such youths during training would receive an allowance the same as now provided under the war risk insurance act.

Establishment of the office of under secretary of war, who would be charged with the solution of the great industrial and business problems involved in the procurement of military supplies, is provided, but the committee upon Secretary Baker's recommendation eliminated provisions which would work to make General Pershing chief of staff in place of General March, the present chief of staff.

The bill, if passed as drafted, would reduce expenditures for the military establishment by approximately one-half. Estimates for the War Department and the army for this coming year, he said, are placed at $1,100,000,000, while the proposed bill would not require more than approximately $500,000,000 annually.

Senator Wadsworth said that he would report the bill to the Senate possibly today and would seek to call it up for consideration at the earliest possible moment. Owing to other measures now pending he hardly expects to bring it up in the Senate before next week.

A GOOD JOB AND NOTHING TO DO

London, Jan. 27.—King George has appointed Lieutenant General Sir W. P. Dill, as Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod in succession to the late Admiral Sir Henry P. Stephenson. The office is one of those purely ornamental ones, which are rather numerous in this country. "Black Rod," as he is called for short, has next to nothing to do and gets £1000 a year for doing it, and a suite of apartments, rent free, in the House of Lords.

He is a glorified messenger of the hereditary legislators. When on duty he is gorgeously attired in court costume with knee breeches and a plumed cocked hat and a dandy little sword by his side. The emblem of his authority is an ebony wand but he never does anything with it.

When members of the House of Commons are summoned to the House of Lords to hear speeches from the throne or the royal assent given to bills that have been passed, Black Rod enters the Upper House and undress his way to the "woolack" on which sits the robed and wigged Lord Chancellor. He is told to inform the members of the House of Commons that they are wanted. Then he has to walk half way to the door backwards, making a bow at every few steps and looking very solemn.

When he arrives within a few yards of the door of the House of Commons the Sergeant-at-Arms of that body who is on the lookout for him, shuts the door in his face. Black Rod has to suppress his feelings and knock humbly at the door.

Then the Sergeant-at-Arms opens a little panel in the door and asks him what he wants, or something to that effect, and Black Rod tells him what he already knows. Then Black Rod is admitted. This little bit of comedy is supposed to indicate that the House of Commons does not take any orders from the House of Lords. Then Black Rod, with chastened mien, advances to where the Speaker sits in state, and in Norman French delivers his message. This is the performance he has to go through for the first time when Parliament opens on February 10.

General Pulteney has served in many campaigns, having joined the Scots Guards in 1881, and has been the recipient of a large number of honors. During the great war he commanded the Third Corps in France. He has taken a keen interest in the development of military recreation and has been a prime favorite with his men. He was born in 1881.

FOREIGN VESSELS STAY WET

Liquor Ban Lifted on Ships in Ports of U. S.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Orders requiring liquor on foreign vessels to be sealed while the ships are in United States ports have been suspended pending a ruling by the Attorney-General, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Shouse announced Monday.

While the Attorney General has not yet rendered an opinion, the action of Assistant Secretary Shouse was regarded here as indicating that the port ban on liquors on foreign ships will be lifted permanently.

The Treasury decision rendered some weeks ago, under which it was held that when a foreign vessel reached the three-mile limit all liquors aboard should be sealed and remain sealed until leaving port, was based on an opinion by the solicitor of the Treasury Department. A formal protest was made to the State Department by the Italian government. It being stated among other representations, that wine was a part of the regular ration of the ships' crews. Other governments are understood to have made informal protests, and the matter was referred to the Attorney General.

International custom requires that every possible courtesy be shown for foreign governments. Mr. Shouse said, and while the rules and regulations of American ports are controlled by the United States, foreign merchant vessels, like embassies, should be regarded as foreign soil, so far as prohibition control is concerned.

Embassies and legations are permitted to keep any liquors they desire on their premises, and also to clear shipments of liquors through the customs. The question of whether foreign representatives who own warehouse certificates can withdraw stock from bond has not arisen since Jan. 16, when the national prohibition constitutional amendment went into effect; and in case it does, that matter also will be referred to the Attorney General for decision.

TELEGRAPH BITS

(By Associated Press)
London, Jan. 27.—A lively competition for Transatlantic trade appears to have sprung up among the American, British and Italian interests working here. The British consul at Lisbon in a report published in the Board of Trade Journal states that members of the American relief committees are busily engaged in opening up trade with America. The British still lead in importations he asserts. The consul states that hitherto little else but clothing and flour for distribution to American refugees and persons of other nationalities in distress have reached this country from the United States, but the attention which is being paid to the Transatlantic by American interests points to an appreciable interest in American trade in the near future.

The Italian mission, as part of its campaign, has established a fortnightly service of cargo and passenger steamers between Trieste and Batum. The route takes the boats through the northern Black sea and stops are made at Caucasian ports.

Mexico City, Jan. 27.—Fourteen radical agitators, fleeing from the U. S. have been detained at Nogales, Gen. Juan Torres has reported to the war department. Their disposition seems to be a problem.

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 27.—The commercial situation of Chile has very much improved in the last months of the year 1918 and a general tone of business briskness prevails as shown by the increase of orders for imported goods and the augment of the bulk of exportation. Nitrates, the leading article of Chilean exportation has been raised in prices and all the production of present year is sold.

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 27.—The Japanese are now discouraging emigration to America and Brazil, according to R. Yamashita, vice president of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce. "We are now a manufacturing nation," he explained while on a visit to Sydney, "and we do not want our people to emigrate. There will not be much going in the near future."

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 27.—At the suggestion of County Judge Leroy Brandon, who declared that "hoons" had gone and there will probably be no more convicts," the board of commissioners of Duval county, one of the most populous counties in Florida, has closed the county convict camp and has under consideration a proposition to leave it for farming purposes. This action was prompted when it was discovered that a convict was in the camp January 1. The prisoners in the past have been employed in repairing county highways.

INTERESTING N. H. FARM FACTS

New Hampshire farms have more than six times as great attraction for residents of other states as have the farms of all the other states for residents of New Hampshire.

That is one of the interesting facts disclosed in a report just issued showing the movements of buyers of 3088 farms valued at $17,950,400 sold by that agency last year. The total sales in New Hampshire for the year were 245 farms and with the exception of 37 all of these were purchased by men from other states of the Union, Canada and even from across the ocean. The 37 were purchased by men who already lived in New Hampshire.

At the same time only 33 residents of New Hampshire bought farms outside the state. Thus, while more than 55 per cent of the 245 farms sold in the state during the year were bought by men from outside, less than one per cent of the 3428 farms sold in other states during the same period were bought by residents of New Hampshire.

Twenty-two states and two foreign countries were represented by the 268 men who brought their families to settle on New Hampshire farms during the year. The largest number from any one state came from Massachusetts, which contributed 106. Next in order of numbers came Canada with 19, followed by New York state with 14, Connecticut with 12, Maine with nine and Vermont with eight. Michigan and Pennsylvania each sent four farm families to New Hampshire, while Kansas, Maryland, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin each sent two.

One of the men who settled on a New Hampshire farm during the year came all the way from Sweden while another came from England. Still another came from Washington state, on the other side of the continent and another from Florida. Other buyers came from Arkansas, Montana, West Virginia and Rhode Island.

Only three New Hampshire men bought farms outside of New England. Two of these settled in New York state and one in New Jersey. Of the other 50 who did not buy in their own state, 15 went to Vermont, ten to Maine, three to Massachusetts and one each to Rhode Island and Connecticut.

SUGAR MILL PRICE 10 1-2 CENTS

President of Cuba Fixes It at 10 1-2 Cents for Deliveries by Planters in December

Havana, Jan. 27.—President Menocal has fixed by decree at 10 1-2 cents a pound the price at which the sugar contracts shall operate with the sugar cane growers for sugar delivered for the month of December. The decree does not affect any transactions made by mutual agreement between planters and cane cutters, but lays down rules on which the so-called "average" is to be arrived at in future transactions. The term "average" applies to the mill at which the cane is ground.

DEALING WITH THE UN-DEPORTED

America consists of Americans and of nothing but Americans. Those who within the past few years, have come to think of America as a vast mixture of languages, races and clashing doctrines, have had the wrong viewpoint. They have been thinking of America as a place and not as an idea.

Millions of immigrants have crossed the ocean from the Old World. They have reached our shores, but many of them have never reached America. On the other hand, many of our native born are not now and never have been Americans. There is no such thing as an "American Red." There is no such thing as an "American I. W. W."

An American is a man who feels American, thinks American and acts American—no matter where he was born.

America has plenty of room and a warm welcome for those who wish to become Americans, but it cannot spare a single square foot of soil to those who intend to continue anti-American and anti-American. Fortunately, we can deport some of the most noxious of these intruders, but these are but a small percentage of the total. What about the remainder?

There is but one answer: They must be Americanized.

This, however, is not a task for the Department of Justice, not even for Congress, and the various state legislatures; it is a task for the rank and file of American citizens. It is a task of education plus, and of influence plus; it is really a task for moral coercion. It is a task for swift and energetic action, wherein American citizens fit all their vast numbers must seize opportunities when they exist and create opportunities when they do not exist, to Americanize all who come within their own circles or else to cast them out of their circles.

It is no time to talk of "broad-minded sympathy" or of "conciliation," where a great question of right and wrong is involved. You cannot "conciliate" evil any more than you can "conciliate" a conflagration.

SPORT BITS

Efforts are being made in New Jersey to have the limit of boxing bouts extended from 8 to 12 rounds.

Rumor has it that Tom Jones, formerly manager of Jess Willard, is willing to supplant Tom O'Rourke as pilot of Fred Fulton.

The Franklin, Pa., Independent once had team claims to have signed "Mule" Watson and Harry Pearce of the Phillies and Scott Perry of the Athletics. Pitcher Hod Eller's announcement that he had quit the game for good must have made Manager Moran of the Champion Reds sit up and take notice.

The University of Pennsylvania is the first to award the varsity letter to boxers. Now that the lid has been lifted boxing should flourish in the college world.

In the person of George Vermet, the 18-year-old wonder swimmer of Montreal, Canada has a likely candidate for Olympic honors at Antwerp next summer.

No boxing bout since the Dempsey-Willard affair at Toledo has attracted so much attention as the Benny Leonard-Dundes bout, which will take place in the near future.

Clyde Millan, the Washington outfielder has been taking the baths at Mineral Wells, Texas, this winter, and says he is in better condition than he has been for years.

Now that the wrestling game is on the top wave of prosperity, fear is expressed in the east that the "pure thing" gentils will get busy and give the sport a knockout.

Jack Britton, the welterweight champion is anxious for another bout with Benny Leonard, and as Benny is just as anxious to add to his collection of kate no doubt Jack will be accommodated.

Franklin Mason, the Port Wayne champion to the American flyweight title, will meet Jimmy White, the British champion at Milwaukee the latter part of this month.

Joe Ray, the running marvel of the Illinois A. C. will make the run of his life to win the Hunter mile at Boston February 7 and by doing so, gain permanent possession of the coveted trophy.

Baytling Nelson, former lightweight champion, claims to have picked Johnson to win over Jefferies, Willard to beat Johnson, and Dempsey to take the heavyweight crown away from Willard. And the battles add: "And then you say old fat is nuts."

The New York Yankees have never won a pennant, but they are the champion big money spenders for talent. Stars bought by the Yankees include Babe Ruth, $100,000; Carl Mays, $25,000; Frank Baker, $25,000; Leo Jagers, $25,000, and Fritz Mofel, $12,000.

Philadelphia will try to land the national lawn tennis championship tournament when the United States National Lawn Tennis Association meets next month. For several years the event has been held at Forest Hills, N. Y.

WOULD LIMIT NUMBER OF REPRESENTATIVES

New Hampshire Convention Desires Total of 325.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 27.—The New Hampshire constitutional convention, a committee of the whole today went on record in favor of a reduction in the size of the house of representatives, from something over four hundred members to not more than 325. The reduction is to be effected by changing the basis of representation from population to votes cast at the presidential election by the towns and wards of the state.

One hundred and fifty votes cast will entitle a town or ward to one representative in the legislature with 100 more votes required for each additional representative. The convention which was drawn by James O. Lyford of Concord, to the standing committee on legislative department for the changes in phraseology, and it will be taken up in the convention tomorrow for final action.

Amendments introduced by Duncan of Jeffrey, Childs of Henniker, and Colclough of Nashua for the election of legislators from districts, as in Massachusetts, were killed, as were others offered by Dean of Danbury and Melrose of Concord, leaving the basis of representation by population as at present, but increasing the number of members.

An amendment to the constitution establishing the principle of initiative and referendum was reported from the standing committee "without prejudice" and was laid upon the table for further consideration later, as was a favorable report upon an amendment.

ment making state and city pensions constitutional.
John K. Bates of Exeter, chairman of the committee on finance, told the delegates that the $35,000 appropriation for the expenses of the convention would be exhausted Thursday night so that the next two days are expected to be full of action.
Ex-Mayor Harry W. Spaulding of Manchester acted as temporary president of the convention this afternoon and Charles S. Emerson of Milford presided as chairman in committee of the whole.

In the debate on the size of the legislature, the district system of election was championed by delegates from the cities, Colclough, Winn and Dorle of Nashua, Cavanaugh of Manchester and Callaghan of Keene, and a lively issue was made of the fact that under the Lyford amendment after redistricting and taxpayers will have no representation and the city of Manchester, paying twenty percent of the state tax, will have but 8 per cent of the legislature levying the tax.

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, January 28, 1920.

A Duty of the Government.

With all the drastic features of the prohibition law, some of which seem to many to go beyond reason or necessity, provision has been made for the sale of liquors for medicinal purposes. This is regarded on all sides as proper, but there is a question whether the provision for such sales could not be improved upon. The law provides that liquors for medicinal purposes may be sold by pharmacists holding the requisite licenses, sales to be made only on physicians' prescriptions.

On its face this provision would seem to meet the needs in the case, but there evidently exists a fear that there is danger of the abuse of the privilege thus granted, with the result that from some quarters there comes the suggestion that it would be better for the government to take the business entirely out of the hands of the druggists and establish agencies at which liquors for medicinal uses would be dispensed. The theory is that under such an arrangement agencies would be established where needed and nowhere else, and that the business, being in the hands of the government, would be less liable to abuse than it would be in the hands of individuals.

William H. Edwards, collector of internal revenue in New York, reports that 500 applications for licenses to sell liquors for medicinal purposes have been filed in that city, but that only a few of them have been approved by the Washington authorities. The New York health commissioner, Dr. Royal S. Copeland, reports that he is receiving complaints that physicians are unable to procure liquors for their patients, and he advocates the establishment of government stations to meet a need which no one questions. The Bronx Pharmaceutical Association urges the opening of such stations and keeping the business entirely out of the hands of the druggists.

What will be done with reference to this or similar propositions cannot now be told, but there is one phase of the subject, which is of even more importance, that deserves and should receive attention. The prohibition law acknowledges the necessity of spirituous liquors for use in sickness and makes provision for their sale for such use. This action is sanctioned by the most uncompromising foes of the liquor traffic and its propriety is questions in no quarter.

Now comes the question, why is not the government in duty bound to protect the public against exorbitant prices in cases where the legitimate purchase of liquor is necessary? The government tax on distilled spirits is now $6.40 cents a gallon, which is $2 a gallon more than liquors of ordinary quality used to retail for. Under the restrictions that arose with the approach and coming of prohibition those in a position to sell took advantage of the situation and boosted prices beyond all reasonable bounds, as everybody knows.

Now the question is, will the government permit this sort of thing in connection with sales strictly for medicinal purposes, as provided for by law? It ought not to. It has no moral right to. If liquor is to be supplied for use as a medicine, as it is and as it should be, the government should see that it is furnished at a reasonable price. All know that the government needs all the revenue available, and will for many years to come, but it ought not to join hands with the profiteers, against whom it professes to be waging battle, and exact tribute from the hands of the sick and suffering.

If there is to be any tax on liquors for medicinal uses it should be very moderate, and the same can be said of the price. In this matter the government is all-powerful and should neither practice nor permit anything bearing the faintest semblance to profiteering.

We are warned from various high sources that the remedy for the high cost of living is greater production. Now comes news that numerous mines in the Western and Northwestern fields have been shut down for lack of orders. But has anyone heard of any reduction in the price of coal?

The accident caused a delay in the several local trains which are made up at Readville and resulted in a congestion at the South Station.

WILL NOT ACCEPT ALLIES ULTIMATUM

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Jan. 28.—The Jugo Slav reply to the allied ultimatum regarding the Adriatic question received in Paris this afternoon amounts to a virtual refusal of the compromise offered by the Italians. The reply is believed suggests a new basis of compromise along the lines of President Wilson's proposal.

Paris, Jan. 28.—Members of the Jugo Slav peace delegation declare there can be no foundation for reports emanating from Rome yesterday to the effect that the Belgrade government had decided to accept the allies ultimatum relative to a settlement of the Adriatic question. The delegation expects to receive its government's reply today. Confidence was expressed by the delegation this morning that the Jugo Slav government would refuse to meet the allies demands.

ALCOHOL BLOWS UP AT POLICE
HEADQUARTERS*Starts Fire in Cell Room;
Deputy Ducker Quite Badly Burned.

A barrel containing alcohol, seized by the police at the Ideal Pharmacy, caused plenty of excitement at the police headquarters this forenoon when it exploded in the cell room, causing a call for the fire department and injuries to Deputy Chief George H. Ducker.

The deputy going into the cell room noticed the barrel was leaking and started to stop the leaks. He hardly touched the cask when the head blew out and flames shot out into the room. His clothing took fire before he could escape. He ran out into the police room wrapped in flames.

Chief Hurley and John Farwood of the treasurer's office, were the only people in the station and while some one was pulling in an alarm from box 24, they battled to save Ducker's life by throwing him on the floor and tearing off his clothing. He was badly burned about the face, hands and legs before the burning clothing was removed. The ambulance removed him to the Portsmouth Hospital. The fire burned part of the painted cell and one other. When the fire department arrived several of the city hall employees were fighting the blaze and had practically under control. The explosion and fire in doubt was caused from heat, the barrel being stored close to the steam pipes since it was taken in the raid at the Ideal Pharmacy on Saturday night.

Although the burns of Deputy Ducker are severe, the attending physicians believe there is nothing to indicate any danger in his condition.

FLETCHER QUIT MEXICAN POST

Washington, Jan. 28.—Alfred P. Fletcher has resigned as United States ambassador to Mexico to take effect in the course of the next few weeks. He terminated 18 years of service in the diplomatic branch of the government without any particular plans for his own future, but feels certain he can no longer be helpful in cultivating proper relations with Mexico as long as President Carranza remains in control there. The ambassador's activity in the presentation of the American demands has made it certain that he could not return to his post with benefit to either government.

IMPORTANT MEETING WOMEN'S CITY CLUB

The Women's City Club will meet on Thursday a fifth week at the Women's Building from 10 to 5 to sew for Serbian Relief Supplies. are greatly needed in southern Serbia, where nothing has been done since the war. The villages were burned and most of the older people killed by the Bulgarians. Large numbers of children are being gathered into orphanages. Two or three Americans, one of whom, Elizabeth Withams, is a Smith College graduate, and a well known social worker in this country, are working with the help of a few Serbians, mostly school teachers, to take care of these children. Funds are very limited, and the Red Cross is no longer equipped with supplies at that point.

New and second hand clothing of a practical and serviceable sort and in good condition, for women and children is most welcome. Household supplies, suitable for an orphanage or hospital would also be gratefully received. Knitted goods are acceptable. Financial aid is of course immensely useful.

DRYDEN BEATS WINROW IN HARD MATCH

Bill Dryden defeated Jack Winrow of North Adams in a rattling good wrestling match at Freeman's hall on Tuesday evening. There was a large number of fans present and they were high in their praise of the match. It was a good clean match with both men tested to their utmost. Winrow, who is if anything a little heavier than Dryden is a clever wrestler, one who does not depend upon rough stuff or play to the crowd but tends to his handling every minute.

He got the first fall on Dryden in thirty minutes with a full body. Dryden secured the second fall in 20 minutes with a combination of a head lock and leg bar, and the third fall went to Dryden in sixteen minutes with a top hold.

In the preliminaries Young (Alb) defeated Young (Tawbe) in straight falls and issued a challenge to any boy of his weight in the state.

BASKETBALL

The Dover team will play their first game in this city tonight when they meet the Navy Yard team. The Manager of the Dover Legion team is to bring down his professional team and will start with the following line up: Hoyling and C. Bragdon forwards, J. Heywood and H. Stacey guards, and Christensen centers. The Yard team will meet them with Roberts and Jack Timmons forwards, Tom Timmons and Woyner backs and Wylie center. The game will be refereed by Schindler of the Y. M. C. A.

Wylie is expected to star for the navy yard as he has been showing remarkable well of late. He has the making of a fast man and in his last game with the Rochester he showed signs of the form which the Manchester sports papers have credited him with.

The High school basketball had practice on Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and they are getting ready for the game with the Allen school at Newton Mass. on Saturday. The basketball team has not been going along as well as was expected. They dropped two games last week one to Dover and the other to Nashua, and Nashua is not over strong having been defeated by St. Joseph of Manchester who were defeated in this city by the High school. The team seems to lack the proper fighting spirit so noticeable in the football team last fall and one is prone to think that there is something wrong with the coaching system. There is excellent material, but they should play better basketball than they are showing at the present time.

The Lowell professional team are to play here on Saturday evening with the Portsmouth professionals and it should be very fast "hockey." Low the old professional is munging, and coaching the Lowell team which is sufficient guarantee that they will know the first principles of basketball at least.

Low Watcher the old Gloverville basketball star is at Winsor, Vt., with a team which is whipping all of their games. The Winsor team will play the Portsmouth professional team here some time in February as a game has been arranged for. Another strong professional team which will be seen here on Feb. 14 is the Wash's of Lewiston, a team which is willing to back their playing ability against any in New England for the hard coin.

The Girls Legion team is seeking a game with the New Hampshire college girls team for between the periods at Freeman's hall on Saturday night.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH THE SPORT FAN

Edna Hanson, the old timer, John Kilonis and Waino Ketonen, rivals for the middleweight championship, are among the wrestlers well known in New Hampshire who are seen in Boston bouts. In this state, Manchester, because of both its size and its cosmopolitan character is the center of boxing and wrestling enthusiasm. Jim Poulton and Pete Forrest are rival promoters of the wrestling game in the Queen City and two or three boxing clubs are in weekly operation. Tussy Sweeney, probably the best known pug New Hampshire ever sent out, is one of the referees, and one of the results of the local interest in the sport is the pulsing of a husky crop of scrappers as well as the importance of outside stars. The Manchester police are pretty wise to the tricks of these games and it is not often that a "raw one" is put over down the river. Others places in the state where boxing and wrestling are in high favor this winter are Portsmouth, Derry, Berlin, Franklin, Lebanon, Nashua and Concord. Concord has had a couple of bouts but the staid old capital city does not seem to be quite ready for a ripp and a punt. The thymio operators who are all good sports are inclined to have all these games because it takes them too long to synthesize successfully with the name: Waino Ketonen, Ivan Micheloff, Renato Gardini, Matsushita, Yhdel, Zhyzako, etc. etc. "Skid" in Concord Patriot.

The Bangor A. A. basketball team, playing under the name of the White Bears, recently successfully toured New Hampshire towns with excellent success cleaning up. The Bangor A. A. has a fine quater this year composed of Heat, the old Bangor high star, White of Newport, O'Connor of the University of Maine, Finn an old timer and Jack Connell, Connell, who played center for Bangor will be remembered by Portland baseball fans as playing first base for Fitchburg in the J. H. Donnelly circuit last summer.—Portland Express.

"Wild Man" Joe Perrelli, who recently lost a sensational match to John Kilonis in this city, has indicated to Manager Dow that he would like to come to Portsmouth and "rough up" Dryden. He impressed upon Mr. Dow that he won from Dryden in this city last winter and says he is ready to duplicate the performance at any time.

Hughy Murphy, the Charlestown basketball player is now playing a star game for Rochester, N. H. Murphy is also, falling in with the Plymouth legion team and the Shawmut of Roxbury, Mass.

In New York next Friday night a feud of nearly three years standing will be revived when Joe Stecker vs. Earl Caddock meet for the catch-weight-heavyweight championship. The rivalry originated when they were paired for a contest at Omaha, Neb., April 16, 1917, and it did not end that night when Caddock was proclaimed the winner.

New letter from last Fall's New Hampshire State college football team will meet this week to elect a captain for the coming fall. Those mentioned for the honor are Leavitt, end; Hayvel, center, and "Dutch" Connor, full-back.

Permission has been given the University of California baseball team to tour the east during the coming season. Games arranged include: May 28, Cornell; June 2, Harvard; June 10, Dartmouth; June 11, Princeton; June 12, Pennsylvania.

That basketball is a beautiful game is demonstrated by the fact that Connell and Finn of the White Bears have been playing the game for a long time. Connell has been shooting baskets for about 20 years while Finn has been a star performer for sixteen seasons.

At Portland, Me., tonight Soldier Katron the star welterweight wrestler will attempt to pin Archie Jannett, champion of the navy, to the mat.

Tuff's tennis team will make a southern trip this spring going along with the baseball team. This is an innovation and will be much help in the racket welders as to the baseball men towards getting into condition for the northern contests to follow.

Otis Lawry, Pat French's old side partner at the University of Maine, had a great year with Baltimore last season. He was the real batting leader of the International league, with an average of .364, and he was third in base stealing with 55 to his credit.

John Kilonis, who has been seriously ill at a Manchester hospital, left the institution Monday and will gradually work up to a point where he will be in trim for his bout with Ketonen which will be staged in Boston in the near future.

LAWN TENNIS RULES WILL BE CHANGED

(By Associated Press)
New York, Jan. 26.—Opposition to changes in the playing rules proposed for action at the annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association in this city Feb. 6, is expressed by George A. Ades, the association's president. While he doubts the wisdom of some of the changes in themselves, his principal objection is based upon the belief that such changes should be made only after consultation with the other playing countries of the world. The resumption of international tennis in 1920 with the prospect of increased activity in coming seasons emphasizes the desirability of having uniform playing rules, and in Mr. Ades's judgment makes it extremely unwise for the United States to make the changes proposed now.

In this belief he is supported by Mr. Robert D. Wrenn, former president of the association. Mr. Wrenn, besides joining out defects in the proposals, also recognizes the importance of uniform rules for international play. He thinks it would be a "grave error" to change the rules in the United States without consulting the tennis associations of other countries.

So far as the rules are concerned, he principal objections relate to the "new foot, fault line, scoring system and method of conducting handicaps events. Their views are set forth by Mr. Ades in part as follows:

"I feel very strongly that these new changes in the rules could not be adopted. The game has always been played under the present system of scoring, which is known and understood the world over. In the present system there is a distinct difference between the point score of each game and the score of the games of each set, so there is no possible chance of a misunderstanding. In the proposed system the scoring of points and the games is exactly the same with the consequent chance of a mixup. To my mind it is a mistake to change the conditions of any game unless there is an absolutely vital necessity for the change. The growth of tennis and the position the game has taken among the sports of the world, is proof positive no such change is necessary.

"The proposed handicapping rule would change the principle of handicapping matches from the winning of sets to the winning of points. It would be impossible to tell who is ahead until the match is over; a pencil and paper would probably be needed to keep track of the points made by each player. In each game and the winner would be decided until the total number of points made by each contestant is figured out and the handicaps added. If the total points of each contestant are the same after the handicaps are added, it is a tie.

"The proposed change in the foot fault rule would permit the server to hop or jump into the air while serving, or to serve on the rim, provided both feet are behind the base line when the racket hits the ball. I believe this also would develop into an added advantage to the server, who now has advantage enough."

AFTER THE MOONSHINERS IN W. VIRGINIA

Charlestown, W. Va., Jan. 27.—The manufacture and sale of moonshine whiskey in the mountains of Southern West Virginia is causing the close attention of W. S. Hallinan, prohibition commissioner, who with a large force of deputies continues to raid and arrest almost weekly.

There have been times in the last few weeks when the officers have met determined resistance, and already two men, Preston Mullens, an alleged moonshiner, and John D. Kennedy, a deputy sheriff, have lost their lives in the campaign.

This fight, the most serious in recent years, occurred in the Panther Creek section or McDowell county, on the Virginia border; Panther Creek, the prohibition authorities say, is one of the most active moonshining districts in the state. There, according to Mr. Hallinan, have been gathered some of the most famous manufacturers of moonshine from Buchanan county, Virginia. They know all that is to be known about the industry, and some of them are famed for the qualities of their "corn liquor." Usually their stills are extremely difficult to locate, but gradually the prohibition officers are hunting them out and destroying them.

There is another kind of moonshiner in that section who is giving the officers much trouble. He makes his moonshine as quickly as possible, marks it with the least delay, and then moves his still to some other place.

The country is mountainous and rough with many fertile valleys. These valleys, the commissioner has discovered, were this year used to a large extent for the growing of sugar cane, the high price of sugar having driven some of the old time moonshiners to producing what they needed for domestic and moonshine purposes.

WANT A TRADE CHANGE IN CHINA

Shanghai, Jan. 27.—Abolition of spheres of influence in China was recommended in a resolution adopted at a recent meeting here of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in China and Hongkong. This Association includes representatives of most important British commercial interests in the Far East.

Its action is regarded here as significant because it has long been claimed that Great Britain has been able to obtain a dominant position in trade in China chiefly by reason of the vast extent of British spheres of influence, which is said to overshadow those of all other countries. The conference resolved that the time had come to reaffirm the abolition of the "open door" as an essential commercial principle and that abolition of spheres of influence should be accomplished by international agreement.

The British government was asked by the Association to remit a portion of the Boxer indemnity and devote it to the education of Chinese along British lines.

The Association expressed its sympathy with the desire of the Chinese to abolish the plan of extra-territoriality. But declared a stable government should first be established, a satisfactory code of laws enacted and that the Chinese judicial system should be reformed.

It asked also that the British government should put into immediate effect the measures adopted by the International Opium Convention in 1912 restricting traffic with Chinese in narcotic drugs. It demanded that piracy on Chinese rivers should be suppressed.

NOW COMES THREAT OF CAR SHORTAGE

Now Look Out for Further Booster.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 27.—Warning of a car shortage during the next two months was issued to shippers today by Director General Hines of the railroad administration with a request for continued cooperation to make the best of the situation.

The director general pledges the railroad administration to make every effort to meet the condition and then points out what he characterizes as the limitations with which it will have to deal.

General industrial activity, the lack which transportation suffered during the coal strike and the fact that the railroad administration facing an early return of the roads to private hands may not have additional freight cars are the principal elements in the problem, the director general says.

"To make this inadequate amount of equipment go as far as possible," says the director general, "the railroad administration has pooled equipment in order to equalize the supply as far as possible and give all shippers as equal treatment as possible under the circumstances; has made use of the permit system in order to avoid accumulation; has appointed special terminal committees to speed up the movement of freight through terminals where a great deal of delay has occurred in the past; during the prevalence of difficult situations in the wheat-growing territory has given preference to the loading of wheat on the ground; has placed the refrigerator car supply of the country under one agency to get the maximum utility out of all such cars available; has carried on a constant campaign to bring about the heavier loading of equipment during the prevalence of coal and of the present time has given coal preference for loading in open-top equipment; has eliminated circuitous routes as far as practicable; has transferred locomotives at different times to the portions of the country where they are needed the most; and has given special attention through centralized agencies to take care of reasonable requirements and meet peculiar conditions which have resulted from bad weather and certain drought conditions, and in every way has tried to the very utmost to make the inadequate equipment and locomotives available do the greatest possible amount of service.

By reason of these expedients of unification the railroads were enabled in the fall of 1919 to handle an exceptionally large business under exceptionally difficult conditions. The postponement of buying in the spring concentrated an extraordinary demand for commodities in the fall. For example, there was an exceptionally small output of coal in the first six months of the year and a consequent intense demand for coal in the fall. Freight with a movement of 11,000,000 tons of coal per week early in September, the railroads built up this movement to over 13,000 tons in the week ending October 22, making an average weekly movement of over 12,000 tons in excess of any pre-war movement.

At the very time when the demands of thousands of all sorts were becoming more pressing, the necessity arose for moving the wheat crop. From July 6 to December 26, seventy-six per cent of the wheat crop was moved from the farms; the volume moved was 645,818,000 bushels—7,246,990 bushels more than had been moved during the same period of 1918.

The problem has been intensified by the falling off in loading percent from 1918, when under measures of the war very heavy loading was secured. The loading per loaded freight car fell from an average of 23.2 tons in the first eleven months of 1918, to 22.4 tons for the same period of 1919, or a decrease of 4.8 per cent, representing a loss of more than 100,000 cars available for loading. falling off has occurred in spite of continued efforts of the railroad administration, assisted by the co-operation of many shippers.

Nevertheless, the railroad administration proposed to consolidate to the end of federal operation all the advantages given by unified control, it wishes to give shippers this assurance and to ask their continued co-operation.

MUSTARD GAS TO BE USED

New York, Jan. 27.—Mustard gas and machine guns are to be used by Captain Harry de Windt, an English explorer, against the poisoned arrows of a tribe described as "white cannibals" on Tiburon Island, on the Pacific coast, he announced here today. Captain de Windt said he would leave New York in a few days to lead an expedition of six civilians and three score Mexican soldiers to the island. Tiburon is said to have been a deposit of plottings from which raiding is made.

The island is about 40 miles from Guaymas, Mexico, which, in turn, is only about 48 hours by rail from Coronado Beach, Cal. The inhabitants are said to be descendants of Dutch, Swedish and German prisoners who, escaped from Mexican prisons (several centuries ago), of Mexican persons known to have visited the island in the past few years, in parties of two and three, only one are said to have returned alive, the others falling victims to the fluxion-haired, blue-eyed, "white Indians" as the Mexican people call them.

"Four miles from the Mexican coast," said Mr. de Windt, "Tiburon is easily accessible. Yaqui Indians, who live on the mainland, call Tiburon the 'Island of Death' for the reason that any person who lands on it is shot by poisoned darts and then eaten by the natives. The cannibals, in addition to bows and arrows, use an ancient blowpipe. They are supposed to number from 500 to 2,000 persons."

"Besides myself, the expedition I will lead will consist of Mackenzie Grove, the companion of Harry Haver, when he fell during his attempted transatlantic flight; an expert radiating engineer; an expert copper mining engineer; Anton Gibson, nephew of President Carranza of Mexico, in whose name the expedition of the island was issued; a man servant and sixty Mexican soldiers, assigned to the party by the Mexican government. I imagine the searching on the island will consume about three or four months."

THE NATIONAL MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

Formation of a national organization to be known as the National Memorial Association, for the purpose of erecting a national memorial in the city of Washington in memory of the dead of the American army, navy, and marine corps and affiliated civilian welfare services, in the World War is announced from Washington.

According to present plans this organization will be made up of representatives from the army, navy and marine corps, as well as representatives from the American Legion, National Guard association, Naval Militia association, American Library association, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service and the Training Camp association. Funds for the erection of this memorial will be raised by popular subscription.

Major General William G. Higin, assistant chief of staff of the army, heads the movement. The army is represented by the commanders of corps and divisions who fought in France and delegates from other organizations will be added to the committee.

The secretary of war has been requested also to designate plots of ground in Arlington cemetery or other national burial grounds for the erection of suitable monuments dedicated to the dead of individual organizations who fought in the World War.

It is only when a man's disability interferes with his following his former calling that he is entitled to the maintenance allowance. The other disabled men if their disability be ten per cent or greater are allowed free tuition and books.

All applicants must furnish legal proof of honorable discharge from the United States service, a certificate of discharge or extracts therefrom certified as true copies, for an affidavit will be accepted. The nearest district office of the federal vocational board will also furnish to the applicant the required blank form, together with a medical examination by the Public Health Service surgeon, or, if one is not available, by a physician in the community.

When a man's eligibility for training has been established, he is assisted by skilled vocational advisers in making the choice best suited to his needs. He may even have a tryout or preparatory course in a shop or school. Training is given in agriculture, industry, commerce, transportation and other professions, as well as "training on the job" in manufacturing establishments, industrial concerns, offices, and on farms.

District vocational officers may authorize transportation and issue merit and lodging requests to cover the time for which a man is detained by the district office for examination.

A disabled man eligible for training and maintenance will receive traveling expenses, school expenses, fees and books and $30 a month, or more if he has dependents. While being trained at a factory, a man in paid the same allowance for himself and family as if he were taking school training. No deduction is made because he earns wages for his work. Prior to a man's entrance into training, he and his dependents are not entitled to any support, and if they are in distress, the matter should be reported to the district office.

A disabled man being trained can receive compensation from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance only when the amount of compensation from the Bureau is in excess of what he would be entitled to from the Federal Board for Vocational Education. In such cases the man is paid the difference, as to take the amount received equivalent to the amount which the Bureau of War Risk Insurance would pay if he were not in training. The amount paid a man under his insurance will not be affected in any way by the fact that he is taking vocational training.

ed the federal board finds a permanent position for the man and keeps in touch with him. A man who receives no training pay from the federal board continues to receive the full amount of that compensation to which he is entitled from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. The war department especially desires to contradict the widespread rumor that it makes his compensation because he takes vocational training. His actual money income cannot be diminished, but it may be increased.

In the pamphlet are given the addresses of all district vocational offices and public health service physicians as well as a table of money allowances to meet all cases of dependency.

WORLD FLOODED WITH PAPER MONEY

New York, Jan. 28.—The world is literally flooded with paper money, according to O. P. Austin, statistician of the National City Bank. The paper currency of 30 principal countries of the world at the beginning of the war aggregated a little over $7,000,000,000. At the end of the war in November, 1918, it was about $40,000,000,000, and in December 1919, it totaled $51,000,000,000, exclusive of the currency issues of the Bolshevik Government, which alone are estimated at $24,000,000,000.

The gold reserves of the 30 countries in question aggregated in 1914 a little less than $3,000,000,000; in 1918 a little over $7,000,000,000, and in 1919 slightly below the $7,000,000,000 line. The ratio of gold reserve to outstanding notes in the 30 countries in question was in 1914 70 per cent, in 1918 it had dropped to 18.4 per cent and in December 1919 was 13.7 per cent.

The world paper currency at the date of the armistice was more than five times as great as at the beginning of the war, and one year later, December, 1919, was seven times as much as at the beginning of the war. The actual increase during the year succeeding the armistice was over $10,000,000,000 or a 25 per cent increase, over that existing at the end of hostilities.

HONEST NATIONAL BUDGETS FAVORED

Countries Must Do This for Credits.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Establishment by the nations of the world of honestly balanced budgets is the first step toward stabilization of foreign exchange and the restoration of normal financial conditions, Paul M. Warburg of New York, former member of the Federal Reserve Board, today told the Second Pan-American Conference.

"A country's ability, without additional borrowing, to balance its regular budget, is the test of its solvency," Mr. Warburg said. "The character of this test at this juncture will decide the measure of its future credit, and upon that, in turn, will largely depend its power to rehabilitate its commerce and trade and its foreign exchanges."

"A number of countries will never again regain their previous exchange levels, Mr. Warburg predicted. The ability of these countries to produce and to save, he added, would determine the extent to which they could reclaim the exchange of their currency standards."

"That whatever the level they may be able to recover," he continued, "ultimately it will be to the vital interest of more to fasten it for a definite gold relation and to establish a stable exchange fluctuating between the maxima and minima of gold parities, with which the country's trade and growth will remain subject to a fatal handicap."

"The more perfect the machinery of credit, however, the more insignificant becomes the necessity of settling in actual gold."

"We are living in an era where the production of money and credit has increased and the production of goods has decreased, in order to emerge we must produce less credit and money and produce more goods."

"Consumption taxes, that is, taxes levied on spending, and not on saving," he advocated by Mr. Warburg, who declared that "extravagance must not only be curbed on top, but at its base, on the part of the masses, receiving the bulk of the national income and, in the aggregate, doing the largest share of the country's spending."

"Our present form of taxation has proved a failure," Mr. Warburg said. "In so far as in a rising market the equivalent of extreme income and profit taxes is being added to the price the public pays for things, and in so far as it empowers the investment power of a country and thereby retards its further development."

"It is the duty of the United States, he said, either through private initiative, or, if need be, through direct government action, to relieve these countries where reconstruction is beyond the grasp of a people or where it is facing starvation or economic annihilation."

"He predicted that the three Americas would be drawn together in a commercial and financial union of growing strength and influence," as a result of the fact that "capital in the old world will find so vast a field in the 'darkest Europe' that it will not be able to keep itself as liberally as it has in the past."

Mr. Warburg summarized his views as follows: "The debacle of foreign exchanges is the logical consequence of the financial anarchy prevailing since 1913. The discount of the foreign exchanges is not the disease, but the symptom. It expresses the differential between various degrees of productivity, in different countries."

"When the equalizing power of gold, interest rates, and government credit has spent itself, the discount of foreign exchanges acts as the only relief."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, but it Brings a Message of Importance to every Woman.

Woodford, Vt.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before my child was born and it did wonderful work for me. My baby weighed eight and one-half pounds when born and I did not suffer many pains. You can publish this letter if you wish for I would not be without your medicine before child birth."

Mrs. JOHN L. BIRN, Woodford, Vt.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

nothing means of adjustment.

"Foreign exchanges of the countries cannot be stabilized until their importations and exportations more nearly balance one another and until the process of dilution of currency and government credit is uniformly reduced or arrested."

"Highly balanced budgets are, therefore, required, because they reduce the public credit, because they arrest further inflation, because they lead to curbing expenditures and increased taxation, which, if properly devised, makes for decreased consumption, increased production and lower prices. And these in turn are essential in that they stimulate exportations and discourage unessential importations, and thereby bring about the possibility of more nearly balancing the two."

"For years to come the rehabilitation of currency standards and foreign exchange levels of borrowing countries will depend primarily upon the fiscal policy of their governments; it will be the character of their budget (including, as it does, the question of higher and increased production) that, more than anything else, will decide their future economic worth and development."

"If we agreed on these premises, it is obvious why it would be foolish to think that in times like this present foreign exchanges could or should have been permanently 'pegged.'"

GIANT PLANE TO CARRY 100

New York, Jan. 26.—A giant, current plane which is being constructed near Milan to carry one hundred passengers was described today by Augustus A. Post before the State Aviation Commission in session here. Mr. Post recently returned from Europe where he was sent by the Aero Club of America to study the advance of aviation. He told of aeronautic advances in England, France, Italy and Belgium, declaring that aviation is a good deal farther advanced in those countries than in the United States.

The Caproni which is being built at Athens will be ready for trials in a short time, Mr. Post declared. It is driven by motors which have a total of 3000 horsepower and is only one of the spacious models of passenger planes, which are being built for extensive air transportation lines, some of which are already in operation in Europe.

SERBIANS COME TO AMERICAN SHOES

Belch, Montenegro, Jan. 27.—Americanization of the footwear of the Balkans within a few years may be one of the unexpected results of the war. The Serbian, of soft pliable leather was abandoned when Serbia was compelled to equip the stiff shoe to which western European and American armies were accustomed, was available. Now, after having been habituated to the modern shoe, the Serbian soldier upon demobilization finds it difficult to return to the primitive sandal.

Supplies of old shoes gathered in America which were distributed recently by the American Red Cross were snatched up by the peasants and avidly. American business already has begun to exploit this new source of demand so that a few more years probably will see the Balkan peasant wearing American shoes.

The war has dealt the venerable headgear of the Montenegrin a telling blow.

More than 600 years ago, in 1339, these Serbs, who were driven to take refuge from the Turk in the mountains of Montenegro after the overthrow of the Serbian Empire at the battle of Kosovo, adopted a cap that was intended to keep fresh in their minds forever a national consciousness. The cap, still worn to this day, is brilliant and bordered by a black band of mourning. The crown is a crimson red for the blood which was shed in the battle and unbordered about the edge are six gold-threaded circles for the six centuries which have elapsed since 1339.

Some now have discarded the cap for now that Montenegro and the Serbs have come into the glory which was theirs before Kosovo there seems to many of them no reason for the perpetuation of the sentiment which the cap was calculated to keep alive through the period of adversity of the nation.

HAS PROMISED HIS SUPPORT

Tokio, Jan. 22.—Premier Hara has promised his support for a conference of the Japan-American relations committee, composed of Japanese and Americans, to be held here next spring. Hara Shibusawa has announced that he expects the conference to contribute to the solution of the anti-Japanese agitation in California and in the United States. The American section of the committee was organized in the United States when Baron Shibusawa visited that country in 1915. After his return home the Japanese section was organized in Tokyo with more than a score of prominent Japanese business men to cooperate with the American members.

The meeting of the committee now has been called here for the exchange of frank opinions regarding diplomatic, economic and other questions arising between Japan and the United States. It is expected that about 15 men including five or six from California and the others from the eastern states will come to Tokyo to attend the meeting.

Government approval of the proposed conference was given at a reception recently held at the residence of the Premier. Many leading Japanese attempted to exchange views on the promotion of friendly relations and a better understanding between the nations. Among them were Baron Shibusawa, Baron Sakatani, Baron Kondo, Munzo Kusuda, Zenjiro Horikoshi, Junnosuke Inoue, governor of the bank of Japan; Chuji Kajiyama, president of the Yokohama Specie Bank; Baron Meguro, Viscount Kaneko and others.

ECONOMICAL VEGETARIAN RECIPES

The following recipes and combinations are offered for the reason that most of us eat more high priced meat than is good for our health or our pocketbooks during the cold weather.

Bean and Rice Loaf—Two cups of white beans. One cup of brown rice. One cup of milk. Two tablespoons of butter or other fat. Two tablespoons of flour. One tablespoon of salt. Wash the beans and soak them overnight. In the morning, simmer the beans for an hour, or until soft. Wash the rice and boil in salted water until it is soft and dry, not mushy. Press the beans through a sieve. Make a white sauce of the milk, butter, flour and seasoning. Add this to the bean pulp and combine with the rice. A bit of chopped onion and parsley, either fresh or dried added to this mixture, makes an improvement to some, but it is not acceptable to all. Place the mixture in a baking dish and bake 40 minutes. The top should be brown and the mixture dry and crispy when done. A cupful of nut meats may be added to this mixture before baking, but this adds considerable food value, and this should be taken into account by the one who plans the meals. The dish is nearly a meal in itself and can be spoiled by eating too much of other foods with it. All that is necessary even in winter, to make a dinner of it is fruit, or a fruit salad, with a hard roll.

BATHING BABY

Remember that the time baby is most susceptible to colds is when he has come right out of a bath. The pores are open and his body is warm and glowing. For this reason the heat time to give baby a bath is just before his evening meal, after which he immediately retires, or in the morning just before a nap. Have everything ready so that just as soon as he is through his bath he may be fed and put to bed, so that it will not be necessary to let him remain exposed before being tucked away in slumber.

FADS AND FANCIES

A general use of pendants is noticeable in many of the new fashions. Checked velvet of henna and navy will be used for southern sports wear. Henna suit blouses are of high color, striped with the suit cloth. Many tailored blouses for spring will be of plain and fitted dotted Swiss. Little suit vests are embroidered with colored wool and silk.

Huge bows, big collars, have been adopted by fashionable millinery. Straight tube like coats of knee length are most in request on suits.

Black tulle, with moire ribbon is an odd dress combination. Skirted in the back at the waist is a new feature of the separate skirt.

Panthe shorter or longer than the rest of the coat is a fashion feature.

FEW CASES OF THE FLU
REPORTED

There were eight cases of influenza reported to the Board of Health up to Tuesday noon. Four of these were in one family and all were comparatively mild cases, although distinctly well developed cases. The cases are scattered in different parts of the city and there is nothing of an epidemic nature.

Dr. Tredick of the Board of Health stated that while there was always danger of a spread of the disease, he did not think that there was much danger now of an epidemic although every precaution was being taken by the board and should be taken by the individuals to prevent a spread of the disease. Don't Take Chances if you think you have the flu call a doctor and go to bed, more than half of the cases of flu become dangerous because people will not observe the rules laid down by their physicians and try and go out too soon.

New IDEAL-Arcola Radiator-Boiler

The IDEAL-Arcola is one of the world's newest and greatest of inventions. It is unique—being both a Boiler and a Radiator. Takes the place of a parlor stove, and distributes heat to the rooms, and through its water-jacket conveys the excess heat to connecting AMERICAN Radiators stationed in adjoining rooms. There is no coal-waste! Unlike stoves and hot-air furnaces, the IDEAL-Arcola with its water-backed surfaces does not burn out or rust out—it will easily outwear the building in which it is placed.

Heats the most and costs least!

The Arcola and the AMERICAN Radiators are made in sections or units and can be increased or decreased in size (Note that 65% of all buildings are altered in size.) Legs cannot be kicked out, as with stoves—hence no fire-risk to building. Does not overheat—hence no danger to children. The soft, radiant, healthful, clean warmth changes a house into a home.

The Arcola may be painted or enameled in any shade or color to match woodwork or decorations. It is not obtrusive like a stove but may be painted to harmonize with any furnishings.

Shipped complete ready to operate

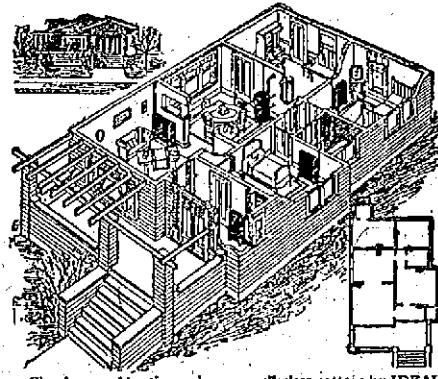

The beauty of the IDEAL-Arcola method is that no cellar is needed. Everything is on one floor. If there are two or more tenants in the building, each can have his own Arcola and make the temperature to suit his own needs—can make his own climate! If you do not wish at first to heat the entire building, buy a small size IDEAL-Arcola and one or two radiators (at prices lower than herein given) and later on buy extra sections for the IDEAL-Arcola and two or three more radiators to warm more rooms. Investigate at once this greatest value in building equipment.
